

Hotel Evangelism

Wilber and me. He is a security guard at the hotel. I struck up a conversation with him, Luis, and Juan by using an earthquake sign. Wilber spoke the most English but was as limited in English as I was in Spanish. Yet, I learned that he is a believer, is married and has three boys. Luis is also married and has a son. Juan (not pictured) is not married. I have Wilber's e-mail address and sent him these pictures. We are communicating via a very cool web site that translates English to Spanish and visa-versa.
